How can we be confident that His price is right? What is the Lord calling you to and what could it potentially cost you? At this conference, we will examine how His calling on our lives always comes with a price. How can we be certain that it's worth the cost? Amber and Jewel will confront these questions by examining what the Word of God has to say about such topics such as His calling, His equipping, His presence, and His sufficiency. Our prayer is that women will walk away with an unshakable faith in our God who is truly worth the price.
